Lack of Remorse

COI=Conflict of Interest →

I would dedicate something to Beth Israel, but honestly them and the ADL can rot in hell for buying BFF my first lawyer and causing the COI that got me in here for 3 months. As long as the FBI shows so little mercy to kids like me and groups like the ADL egg them on, the groups involved will only have more "injustices" to draw in new cannon fodder, as they did to me. Final Note, I'd like to write to Stuart M. Miller and tell him to get out of L to a head. I'm sorry to cause my mistake hurt, but mostly to my parents whose kid is now dead. Not so much to the people who paid my first lawyer to throw my case. I'm snitching on the AFA in the hope someone believed me willing to say yes. I know it's what he will do, because it's convenient. No appointed official would ever be willing to release a "racist antisemite" such as myself, regardless of the facts, simply because it is politically fashionable, but convenience is the big thing. My whole life, people have tricked, least see legoland again. Above all I'm sorry for those awful journals. If I'd stopped writing like I'd wanted to I maybe could have made bail, but I couldn't. I don't no why, I'm just so sorry for failing you
